The Rev Dr Alan Roxborough is widely regarded as one of the leading authorities on the missional church. He has written extensively on the subject, leads seminars, and serves as a consultant to churches desiring missional transformation. More information about Alan and his work can be found at www.roxburghmissionalnet.com

Alan will be in Dunedin from 29 November to 2 December. Don't miss this rare opportunity to hear him speak. His visit is being organised by the Southern Presbytery and the Knox Centre for Ministry and Leadership.
